Description *Applications will be reviewed on a rolling-basis.

A research opportunity is currently available at the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition (CFSAN), Office of Dietary Supplement Programs (ODSP), located in College Park, Maryland.

The participant will participate as review chemist in the Identity and Status Branch (ISB), of the Division of Research and Evaluation (DRE) in the Office of Dietary Supplement Programs (ODSP). The participant will research and review information (such as physical/chemical characteristics, scientific manuscripts, manufacturing processes, and scientific reviews) in support of determining the chemical identity and likely source (e.g., synthetic or botanical) of an ingredient. Evaluate chemistry data and marketing data to help determine the regulatory status of an ingredient. Collaborate with ODSP review toxicologists to support safety review and determinations.

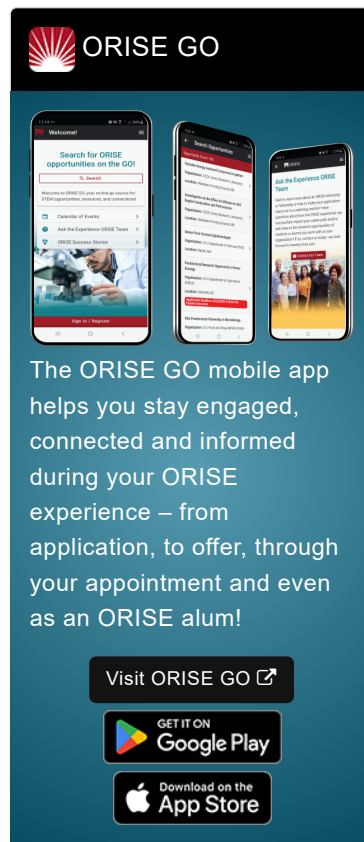

Anticipated Appointment Start Date: As soon as a qualified candidate is identified; start date is flexible

This program, administered by ORAU through its contract with the U.S. Department of Energy to manage the Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education, was established through an interagency agreement between DOE and FDA. The initial appointment is for one year but may be renewed upon recommendation of FDA contingent on the availability of funds. The participant will receive a monthly stipend commensurate with educational level and experience. Proof of health insurance is required for participation in this program. The appointment is full-time at FDA in the College Park, Maryland, area. Participants do not become employees of FDA, DOE or the program administrator, and there are no employment-related benefits.
