Description *Applications will be reviewed on a rolling-basis.

A research opportunity is available in the Office of Pharmaceutical Quality (OPQ), Immediate Office (IO) at the Center for Drug Evaluation and Research (CDER), Food and Drug Administration (FDA), located in Silver Spring, Maryland. CDER performs an essential public health task by making sure that safe and effective drugs are available to improve the health of people in the United States. As part of the FDA, CDER regulates over-the-counter and prescription drugs, including biological therapeutics and generic drugs. This work covers more than just medicines.

The project seeks to apply design thinking to analyze and study business processes, content management, data management and analytics for assessment, inspection, surveillance, policy and research activities that contribute to strengthening overall pharmaceutical quality.

Under the guidance of the mentor, the participant will be trained on the following topics:

- Pharmaceutical quality and the concept of one quality voice
- Strategic planning and operations of pharmaceutical quality
- Design thinking and product design
- Strategic communication

This program, administered by ORAU through its contract with the U.S. Department of Energy to manage the Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education, was established through an interagency agreement between DOE and FDA. The initial appointment is for one year, but may be renewed upon recommendation of FDA contingent on the availability of funds. The participant will receive a monthly stipend commensurate with educational level and experience. Proof of health insurance is required for participation in this program. The appointment is full-time at FDA in the Silver Spring, Maryland, area. Participants do not become employees of FDA, DOE or the program administrator, and there are no employment-related benefits

Completion of a successful background investigation by the Office of Personnel Management is required for an applicant to be on-boarded at FDA. OPM can complete a background investigation
