

Opportunity Title: Space Science: Advanced Techniques in Hard X-ray Focusing Telescopes

Opportunity Reference Code: 0128-NPP-NOV23-GSFC-TechDev

Organization National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA)

Reference Code 0128-NPP-NOV23-GSFC-TechDev

Application Deadline 11/1/2023 6:00:59 PM Eastern Time Zone

Description The InFOC μ S collaboration between GSFC and Nagoya University in Japan have been leaders in the development of hard x-ray focusing optics for astrophysics telescopes since its beginnings. InFOC μ S was the first telescope to detect an astrophysical source with a multilayer hard x-ray telescope. We currently have a funded program to develop a hard x-ray telescope with 2. We have available the Swift/BAT hard x-ray survey of the local universe and we expect the NuSTAR and ASTRO-H medium depth surveys will become available in the near future, making this a especially timely field of research.
