Application Deadline 10/16/2023 3:00:00 PM Eastern Time Zone

Description *Applications will be reviewed on a rolling-basis.

CDC Office and Location: A fellowship opportunity is available with the Health Equity and Social Determinants of Health Research Team in the HIV Research Branch (HRB), Division of HIV Prevention (DHP), within the National Center for HIV, Viral Hepatitis, STD and TB Prevention (NCHHSTP) at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) in Atlanta, Georgia. Successful applicants will be required to re-locate to Atlanta for the fellowship appointment.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is one of the major operation components of the Department of Health and Human Services. CDC works to protect America from health, safety and security threats, both foreign and in the U.S. Whether diseases start at home or abroad, are chronic or acute, curable or preventable, human error or deliberate attack, CDC fights disease and supports communities and citizens to do the same.

Research Project: The purpose of this fellowship program is to mentor a master-level scientist who will contribute to research and evaluations meant to fill in gaps in health equity and social determinants of health affecting Hispanic and Latino sexual, and gender minority populations in the context of HIV Prevention. The fellow will be part of the Health Equity and Social Determinants of Health Research Team in the HIV Research Branch (HRB), Division of HIV Prevention (DHP) at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), headquartered in Atlanta, GA.

The Fellow will focus on a main demonstration project with the opportunity to join other activities. Projects, activities, and working groups will be prioritized based on program needs and fellow's expertise/training and area(s) of interest. The Fellow will be part of multidisciplinary groups with the opportunity to interact and collaborate with health scientists, behavioral scientists, epidemiologists, public health advisors, and funded recipients (e.g., health departments, community organizations, academic institutions).
