Description The Joint Science and Technology Institute for High School Teachers (JSTI East-T) is a two-week, fully-funded, residential STEM research program for current high school science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) teachers in the United States and Department of Defense schools around the world. JSTI provides teachers with world-class laboratory research experiences with research scientists. The purpose of this program is to provide opportunities for teachers to learn new skills and conduct STEM research, to learn about new and emerging careers in STEM, and to equip teachers to take the research and innovations in STEM fields back to their classrooms to inspire and encourage the ways in which they teach and their students' career paths.

Selected teachers will receive a $1500 stipend for full-time participation.

The successful applicant(s) will be required to comply with Environmental, Safety, and Health (ES&H) requirements of the hosting facility, including but not limited to, COVID-19 requirements (e.g. facial covering, physical distancing, testing, vaccination).

- Qualifications
- Must be a U.S. citizen.
  - Must be teaching high school courses in grades 9-12 on full-time basis at a school in the United States or a DoDEA school outside the United States.
  - Must be a science, technology, engineering, or mathematics (STEM) teacher during the 2023-2024 academic year.
  - Must plan to continue as a science, technology, engineering, or mathematics (STEM) teacher during the 2024-2025 academic year.
  - Must have a submitted reference to be considered. Reference requests are sent automatically from your application submission.
