Description The Walter Reed Army Institute of Research (WRAIR) located in Silver Spring, Maryland is looking for a faculty research fellow.

What will I be doing and why I should apply?

The successful candidate will be a current faculty member at an accredited institution of higher education. Under the mentorship of WRAIR staff, the selected faculty fellow will participate in science and health literacy education research programs by collaborating with other educators to provide educational services to primary and secondary school students. Specific activities for this educational training program will include taking part in the creation of collaborative relationships with secondary schools to foster STEM-education networks and pathways to greater STEM learning in support of the WRAIR science education team's mission and grants by participating in research seminars, study conference calls, research protocol development meetings and lab meetings. The faculty fellow will collaborate on study designs and data analysis with the mentor and her team of science education researchers. Finally, the faculty member will take part in presentation and publication of research results.

Where will I be located?

Silver Spring, Maryland

What is the anticipated start date?

WRAIR is ready to make appointments immediately and prefer a May 2024 start date. Exact start dates will be determined at the time of selection and in coordination with the selected candidate. Applications are reviewed on an ongoing basis and internships will be filled as qualified candidates are identified.

What is the appointment length?

This appointment is a part-time, twelve-month research appointment, with the possibility to be renewed for additional research periods. Appointments may be extended depending on funding availability, project assignment, program rules, and availability of the participant.

What are the benefits?

Stipend amounts are determined by WRAIR. Stipends are typically based on a participant's academic standing, discipline, experience, and research facility location. Other benefits may include the following:

- Health Insurance Supplement (Participants are eligible to purchase health insurance through ORISE)
- Training and Travel Allowance
