Learning Objectives: Under the guidance of the mentor, the participant will learn where OGD fits in the FDA/CDER organization; become familiar with the regulatory framework for generic drugs; and understand potential impacts of outsourcing BE studies to non-US based clinical sites and CROs on submission quality, data completeness and review cycles to achieve timely approval of generic drugs. The participant will learn how to source data using available in-house databases and perform extensive quantitative and qualitative analysis to prepare a final report for presentation.
