Description *Applications will be reviewed on a rolling-basis.

CDC Office and Location: A training opportunity is available within the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Division of Foodborne, Waterborne, and Environmental Diseases (DFWED), in the Office of the Director, located in Atlanta, Georgia. The Division's mission is to improve public health nationally and internationally through the prevention and control of disease, disability, and death caused by foodborne, waterborne, and environmentally transmitted infections.

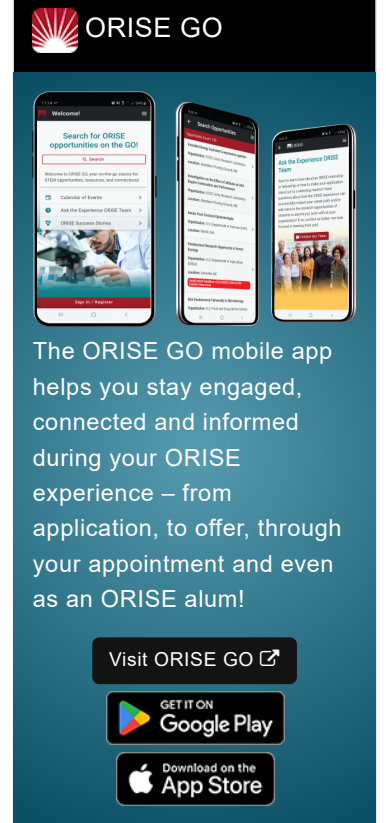

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is one of the major operation components of the Department of Health and Human Services. CDC works to protect America from health, safety and security threats, both foreign and in the U.S. Whether diseases start at home or abroad, are chronic or acute, curable or preventable, human error or deliberate attack, CDC fights disease and supports communities and citizens to do the same.

Research Project: The Division's mission is to improve public health nationally and internationally through the prevention and control of disease, disability, and death caused by foodborne, waterborne, and environmentally transmitted infections.

Learning Objectives: Under the guidance of mentors, the participant will receive training in the following:

- Development, collection and analysis of performance metrics to evaluate program activities.
- Partnership activities, including identification of opportunities to expand collaborations and develop new partners.

 OAK RIDGE INSTITUTE
FOR SCIENCE AND EDUCATION
