Alaska Native villages for cooperative development and construction of safe drinking water, wastewater, and solid waste systems and related support facilities.

Research Project: Want to have a positive impact on public health while collaborating in culturally and geographically diverse environments? The IHS Sanitation Facilities Construction Program is hosting undergraduate and graduate students studying civil or environmental engineering or a closely related engineering field for ORISE internships. The objective of this internship is to collaborate with IHS engineers on projects that serve American Indian homes with drinking water, wastewater, and solid waste disposal facilities. An interactive dashboard of current IHS Division of Sanitation Facilities Construction BIL/IJA projects can be found at <https://dsfc-ihs-gis.hub.arcgis.com/> and additional information on the IHS Division of Sanitation Facilities Construction program can be found at <https://www.ihs.gov/dsfc/>.

Learning Objectives: Under the guidance of a mentor, you will gain hands-on experience to support your academic and professional goals. You will engage in activities that include, but are not limited to:

1. Collaborating with engineers in planning, designing, preparing construction, and project documents
2. Observing the construction of drinking water, wastewater, and solid waste disposal facilities
3. Collecting and analyzing GIS data on water, wastewater and solid waste disposal facilities
4. Participating in meetings with tribal leaders, utility personnel, and customers
5. Collaborating with tribal governments and other federal, state, and local Agencies
6. Learning about the challenges tribal communities face in providing drinking water, wastewater, and solid waste services to American Indian homes
7. Establishing connections and long-term relationships with IHS staff
8. Enhance your preparedness for a STEM career in public service

Mentor(s): The mentor for this opportunity is Melissa de Vera (melissa.devera@ihs.gov). If you have questions about the nature of the internship please contact the mentor(s).

Anticipated Appointment Start Date: June 2026. Start date is flexible and will depend on a variety of factors.

Appointment Length: The appointment will initially be for 8 to 12 weeks but may be extended up to 16 weeks upon recommendation of HHS and is contingent on the availability of funds.

Level of Participation: The appointment is full time.

Participant Stipend: Stipend rates may vary based on numerous factors, including opportunity, location, education, and experience. If you are interviewed, you can inquire about the exact stipend rate at that time and if selected, your appointment offer will include the monthly stipend rate.

Citizenship Requirements: This opportunity is available to U.S. citizens only.

ORISE Information: This program, administered by ORAU through its contract with the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) to manage the Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education (ORISE), was established
